1. On 17 May 1950, about 170 men under TS'AI Ling-yun (蔡陵雲)* moved from T'angk'eng (116-09, 23-46) and Ho Hsi (河西) to Meih sien (116-13, 24-18). Problems of food supply necessitated the move. Approximately 800 men under TS'AI's command are still stationed in Pa Hsiang (八鄉). One of his battalion commanders, TING Tien-wen (丁典文), was recently arrested by the Communists.
  2. A guerrilla unit of 300 men, under the command of LI Shao-chung (李紹忠), has moved near Feng Ch'ui Ta'a (風吹塔) on the east bank of the Han River. On 18 May, in the course of the move, they engaged in a skirmish with the Communists in which minor losses were suffered on both sides. On 2 May CHANG Cheng (張成), an agent of LI Shao-chung, was arrested by the Communists while he was travelling to T'angk'eng. As a result of this arrest, several operatives in T'angk'eng were arrested and a shop used as a meeting place by the men was confiscated by the Communists.
  3. About 100 men with 80 rifles under the command of FAN Jui (范銳) are near Ta Chien (大錢), on the east bank of the Han River. To support themselves they are collecting taxes on goods in transit through Kuei Hu (歸湖). Eighty men armed with 50 rifles under CHANG Ch'i-sheng (張奇生) in Ta Lung Hua (大龍華) and Huang Chin (黃金) are supplied food by the local peasants.
  4. About 1,000 men under LO Tseng-ming are in the mountainous region of Ch'ao-yang (116-35, 23-17), P'uning (116-13, 23-27), and Chieh yang (116-20, 23-32). WU Su-yi (吳思義)** has 1,000 men in Wu Shan (烏山) and Shao An (邵安). About 200 men are in San P'u Shan (桑浦山).
